REPORT OF THE DELEGATE TO THE AKC

What was a significant event in my dog related activities was an historic event for the American Kennel Club. March 12, 1974 was the date of the first meeting which I attended as your new Delegate to the AKC. The meeting followed a luncheon, as it always does, at the Biltmore Hotel in New York City.

The historic event, as most dog columns have covered, was the end of the "male" restriction on Delegates to the AKC. This was accomplished by a voted amendment to the AKC Constitution and By-Laws. After considerable discussion, most of it favorable to the change, the motion to amend was carried by a roll call vote of 180 to 7. Votes necessary to carry were 141. My vote was affirmative.

Other items of interest follow:

1. Two amendments to the Retriever Field Trial Rules were voted. One related to a clarification of restrictions on Field Trial entries of a dog boarded by a veterinarian/judge prior to the Trial. The second related to a new restriction on future entries of dogs who have a history of attacking other dogs while competing in trials.

2. A sub-committee of the AKC Board of Directors has been formed to study effects of the energy crisis. The first action taken has been the granting of approval for use of common show sites on consecutive days. Other developments will be followed and evaluated.

3. The Delegates were reminded that the new measuring procedures and equipment in conformation classes will become effective July 1, 1974. This is the procedure whereby the judge will measure the dog with a pre-set measuring device rather than the present adjustable device used by a measuring committee.

4. Results of dog and litter registrations for 1973 compared to 1972 showed a decline. Individual dog registrations were down 0.2% at 1,099,850. Litter registrations were down 2.3% at 420,749.

As of May 1 we have over 70 Briards registered for our Rassemblement...encouraging at this early date, but a far cry from our goal of 200. Final date for registration will be July 15, at which time our catalog will go to the printer. However a few late registrants will be accepted if our schedule allows. We will do our best not to turn anyone away.

M. Janicot has confirmed his date of arrival as August 5, and he and his wife will be in Ohio the afternoon of August 9.

We have planned a panel discussion for that Friday evening with the following speakers and topics:

- Obedience......Jerry Katz
- Grooming......Cece Collins
- Breeding......Harold Marley
- Handling......Barbara Zimmerman

The evaluation will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday morning and continue thru Sunday.

The following Wednesday the Janicots will fly to Los Angeles for a few days, and then on to Carmel for the second round. The Rassemblement in Carmel will probably be limited to Saturday only...unless we are suddenly inundated with Cal. registrations. I certainly hope we will be. Judging in Carmel is tentatively scheduled to begin at 10 a.m.

August 21 the Janicots will fly to Louisville for a few days of rest and relaxation before they return to France.

We hope to maintain a relaxed and casual attitude throughout the event. Catalogs, armbands, and evaluation sheets will be distributed at the sites. Dogs will be evaluated in catalog order wherever possible, however latecomers will be evaluated.

Our carpool idea has received a rather cool reception now that the gas crisis has eased. Hopefully it's because all our members will have their cars packed full of dogs. Mimi Long has room for at least one dog. Her route is Duluth, Minn. to Eau Claire, Wis., to Madison, Wis., to Rockford, Ill., to Chicago, to Toledo, Ohio, to Columbus. Jane Dubin will be driving from New City, N.Y. via the Delaware Water Gap and Route 80 across Penn. to Columbus. Anyone along these routes who needs a ride, or wants to pool and share expenses, please contact Jane or Mimi.

To repeat...our deadline is July 15, and our goal is 200 Briards. Get your reservations in NOW ! ! !

M. L. Tingley

The mood is French and verry romantic. You and that "Special" person have just left the French Market, (near the French Village) and walked across the open meadow in the moonlight with dewdrops clinging to your shoes. In the background happy squeals and splashes are coming from the swimming pool; you can hear soft, romantic music floating across the courtyard from the dance floor; the clink of glasses, soft talk and laughter drift to you ears from the outdoor bar. Then you are at your terrace door....you walk in and there you are greeted with dim lights, your bed turned down and two chocolate mints that have been laid out on the night stand.

Aha! A second honeymoon....but what is this! A beast jumps out at you from a dark corner of the room....is it a lion - or a bear? Neither...it is just your beloved Briard and you are here for the B.C.A. Rassemblement '74....and this is your air-conditioned motel room.

"Headquarters" for the weekend will probably be room 124, the Capitol Suite, which has been set aside for the B.C.A. Hospitality Room. There is an excellent dining room and night club; also a 24 hour coffee shop and even a magazine stand, if you should want to read. Room service is available, ample parking, nearby shops, restaurants, gas stations, and entertainment. Table tennis, pool table, putting green, small fry swings - all are available. A nice touch is a free toothbrush and some green towels which help to make the motel room seem more like home, and don't forget the remote-controlled color TV and radio.

Several of us "tried the Hospitality Inn (at Columbus) on for size" the first week-end in March and found it to be very enjoyable. Add...Madame and Monsieur Janicot, your friends, lots of Briards, an interesting panel discussion, a relaxed B.C.A. annual meeting, group lunches, evaluations of the dogs ----all this plus talk, talk, talk! What do you have but the grand and glorious chance for the best weekend this summer!

Just don't miss it, it is really going to be great! Register your Briards now....ALL of them....by contacting Mary Lou Tingley, Yardley Road, Mendham, NJ 07945. If you don't have a Briard, come anyway! Special rates which cover room and food are available for your weekend. For motel reservations contact Bill Heaton, 2630 Henthorn Road, Columbus, OH 43221.

Don't fail to join us in all the fun, frolic, and education!!!!

While observing an obedience trial recently, I realized that many dogs were losing points, not because of the dog's performance but because of the handler's performance. These mistakes in obedience are called HANDLER ERRORS and are penalized right along with the dog's scores. If we are all aware of the AKC Obedience Regulations, this will not happen. You can obtain a free copy of these regulations by writing The American Kennel Club, 51 Madison Ave., New York, NY 10010.

What is most important is to be aware of the things you do in training your dog. Any adjustments you make to your dog's performance is penalized as "handler error". It is important to be aware of how these errors on your part, creep into the training of your dog. Adjusting to your dog does NOT teach your dog to adjust to YOU. Keep in mind that not only will points be deducted for handler errors, but, the dog's performance will also be penalized, giving double deductions for the same mistake. Handler errors are usually penalized stiffly - 2 to 5 points per error.

Let me be more specific in description of these errors. I will address myself only to Novice class. We will discuss Open and Utility at another time.

ADJUSTING TO YOUR DOG - HANDLER ERRORS

1. Guiding the dog with the leash.
2. Slowing down or speeding up to compensate for the dog's heeling. (This includes regular heeling pattern on & off lead, & the figure 8)
3. Moving in to stand closer to your dog on a poor sit or heel.

In Novice classes, a few verbal commands and hand signals are permitted to be given simultaneously. The handler may use a command and/or signal to stay on the long sit, put the dog down, stay on the long down and stay in the stand for examination.

Any extra or double commands are a handler error and must be penalized. AKC regulations state that "any movements of the body may be considered to be a signal". This includes scratching your nose, moving your fingers, bowing your head, sneezing, etc. A judge may consider ANY movement you make during an exercise as a double command.

ADDITIONAL HANDLER ERRORS

4. Using a tone of voice that is excessively loud, or shouting commands.
5. Delay in following a judges order to give a command, signal or execute an exercise.
6. Handlers must return to the proper heel position when returning to the dog after the long sit, down or stand for examination.
7. When the judge asks "Are you ready?" (he is required to ask this before each exercise) and you reply "yes", points will be deducted if the dog is sitting crooked. The handler is required to place the dog in a correct position, if not, it is an error. In Novice the handler may guide the dog by the collar between exercises.

I'm sure there are additional handler errors I've forgotten to mention. We urge you to carefully read the AKC regulations. Begin to analyze YOUR obedience techniques in both training your dog and competing in the obedience ring.

There are no obedience scores or legs earned to report in this issue. Jerry and I received word that our GVERET KAHLBH DE STRATHCONA, C.D.X. was the highest scoring Briard in obedience in the country for 1973. Kahlbah is trained and handled by Jerry.

We look forward to seeing more Briards in the obedience ring.

LETTERS FROM OUR LIFE-MEMBERS

Dear Mrs. McLenoth,
I wish to thank the Board of Directors for the Life-Membership in the Briard Club of America. I appreciate it so very much. I found a few Dew Claws which you might be interested in, dating back to 1953, which I am enclosing.

Our hearts are for the Briards as they are the greatest. Our Champion Gamin de la Gaillarde passed away at the age of 16 years. Never a sick day in his life. Just faded away as the vet said. Champion "Hilly" Gaillarde was lost with "bloot", which was a tragedy!

Thanking you again.

Sincerely,
Ila F. Clark

Dear Mrs. McLenoth,
Mrs. Child and I would like to thank you for your most courteous and kind letter of March 18th. I hope the new status won't go to our heads. In a way it is a two-edged sword: on the one hand it makes us feel so Old - nearly fifty! years of exposure to the Briard and his inimitable ways is a long time to contemplate. On the other hand, aside from the personal aspects, we like the idea of giving recognition to anyone who has managed to collaborate in helping to sustain recognition and development of the Briard as one of the finest animal friends mankind has ever developed and enjoyed.

Following your suggestion I am happy to enclose a few thoughts stemming from our long experience.

Sincerely yours,
Charles Child

(Note: The comments on the Briard that Mr. Child sent are printed elsewhere in this issue of the Dew Claw.)

Dear Mrs. McLenoth,
The Board of Directors of the Briard Club of America has indeed honored me by what must be an unprecedented gift. I am astonished and greatly touched to be given a Life-Membership in the great club that they run so well.

Over the years it has been extremely interesting and pleasurable to watch the Club's growth and the maturing judgment of those in charge. The hard work and enthusiasm of those who have been on the Board - to get dogs out to the shows (now to match shows too) and to educate and encourage through the Dew Claw has resulted in a strong club and the breeding of stronger Briards of better standard proportions. In my opinion there began to be an interest in the judgment of French breeders about fifteen years ago that has been all important.

I will never cease to be interested in this fine breed and in your work for it. For your remarkable consideration, I do thank you all.

Sincerely yours,
Jacqueline B. Morrison

Dear Mrs. McLeroth,

I wish to thank you for your kind letter which I received in reply to the Briard Club open letter.

I found a Briard at a show back to 1953, which was the first of my line.

Our hearts are filled with the memory of Champion Gamelin de Nevel, a sick dog.

"Hilary" Gaillard de Nevel

Thanking you,

Dean McLeroth

[Note: The comment at the end of this letter is not included in the transcription.]

Dear Mrs. McLeroth,

Mrs. Child and I were delighted with the kind letter and heads. In a way they feel so OLD — we are inimitable ways and no one who has seen them. The development of mankind has even following your stemming from our...

Dear Mrs. McLeroth,

The Board of Directors honored me by their invitation to watch the Club. The hard work and patience get dogs out to the field, and encouragement through breeding of strong opinion there began about fifteen years ago. I will never work for if...

is indoors or out. He is a companion, who loves to heel down a country road, pushing at your knees, then running ahead, checking back constantly... one who has a deep capacity to join in the family rituals, and will follow you from room to room as you go about your business.

The Briard is one of the few dogs that lives life with an air of independence. He is apt to look on you more as a companion than a master, and like all companions, there will be times when you will have a difference of opinion. On these occasions, the Briard can be quite stubborn. You see, as a sheepdog, he was depended upon to make decisions... and he still does. You will find that you cannot successfully convince a Briard of your superiority with a thrashing or harsh treatment, any more than you could use such methods with a friend. Consistent, gentle persuasion and praise are much more advisable and effective. Intelligent and obedient, the Briard learns quickly, has an excellent memory and an ardent desire to please those he loves. He has the ability to understand an enormous range of commands as well as tonal qualities and body language. A 200-word "vocabulary" is not unusual for the adult Briard.

There are many other bonuses with this breed. To mention a few, he is quiet in the house and adapts quickly to the emotional climate. While large, he is agile and active — amazingly fast when he is going places — but he has none of the constant motion of smaller breeds and some large breeds. The Briard seems equally at home in the city or the country, providing he can be with the family. He is an excellent watch dog, without being vicious and nothing gets by him unnoticed. The instinct to protect in time of danger comes naturally, but even then, he is more likely to throw the trespasser off his feet rather than bite him.

To those who know the Briard, he is a heart wrapped in fur. His picturesque coat is coarse and strong, a true "goat's coat." Dirt and water do not readily cling to it and if well groomed, it sheds very little. The joy of owning a shaggy companion can be cut short if you neglect his long coat. We can't say that you must love combing and brushing, but you will have to take time for it if your dog is going to be attractive and healthy. The minimum time required is two hours per week... much longer if you have been remiss about your job. The well-groomed Briard is a beautiful animal and more important, a comfortable one.

As a sheep herding dog, the Briard shows an uncanny ability to keep his flock within the unfenced boundaries of his master's property. This instinct is strong and the well raised Briard is not inclined to wander from home. Of course, no dog should be permitted to roam the neighborhood at will. He could be hit by a car, poisoned, stolen or destroyed as a dangerous animal. He certainly wouldn't be popular with the neighbors! The controlled dog is a good neighbor and not as subject to these dangers.

If you have time and love to give, the Briard puppy will grow reflecting every minute of kindness you have given... and he will return it to you, many times over.
TOP BRIARDS OF '73: The East Coast—and our adopted Alaskan Kleins—can claim all but one of the top 7 Briards of 1973, according to ratings under the Phillips System. Group Placements between January 1 and December 31 of '73 were counted and itemized by point value. A Working Group 1 gives the winner points equal to the number of working dogs actually shown at that show minus the number of dogs of the winner's breed that were shown. The Group 2 dog receives the same points but minus the number of dogs of his own breed shown as well. The same system continues for Group 3 & 4 wins. Results for '73 follow. Congratulations to all winners! For Briards, it's quite a showing.

June Shew's year-old bitch Iona de l'Eminence (Rubadub) made her match debut on April 27 in South Windsor, Connecticut, and Ichabod de l'Eminence, June's 6-month-old black male puppy, will be ring-bound soon. Another result of the Shews' breeding is Domino de l'Eminence Noir, a captivating black male who this spring arrived at his new home with Lois and Harry Daugherty in Wrightsville, PA, on his second birthday. Domino was greeted with an iced cake complete with 2 candles, all (7) of which he immediately devoured. He is an adored addition to the Daugherty family, who had been distraught over the loss of their previous Briard. To quote Lois: "Harry and I extend our thanks to all the BCA members who offered us dogs and advice. I'd personally like to join in that sentiment. Our Briard Club is a special group. It's rarely that you find so many people who will rally to friends and strangers alike. We can all feel warmly proud of this fellowship.

Of course, Briard comaraderie is as strong in festivity as in adversity. Briarders are in for a treat on July 27 when the Briard fanciers of Ontario will hold a breed booster in connection with the Sudbury and District Kennel Club all breed championship dog show. Jan Charbonneau reports that as of April there were already ten firm Canadian entries. This is the first Briard booster to be held in Canada and is predicted to be the largest entry we've had there as well. Trophies crafted by Canadian Eskimos will be offered for BOB, BOS, BW, WB, WD and Best Puppy, along with rosettes for all wins, first to fourth place. As if that isn't enticing enough for Americans to cross the border, the Charbonneaus will host a Briard dinner party for all participants. This has to be an offer too good to refuse. Everyone interested, please contact Barbara or Jan Charbonneau (680 Ramsey Lake Rd., S.S. 1, Site 2, Box 7, Sudbury, Ontario, P3E 2C5) immediately for assistance with entries, motel reservations, etc. Thanks Charbonneaus and all Canadians!

And don't forget our rassemblement the weekend of August 10. This will be a great opportunity to see old friends and meet new ones as well as a remarkable chance to get to know your dog and our breed better.

The East has enthusiastically welcomed Dallas Meggitt from California to the Washington, DC environs and his new job as an ocean engineer with the Navy. (Househunting is in process at this writing.) When asked for details of his underwater assignments, Dallas offered no comment, proving how readily he is adapting to capitol protocol. Dallas and his wife Jenny are owners of tawny bitch Mexican & American Ch. Rosette de la Plaga and are awaiting the arrival of a male puppy from the same kennel this summer. His intended name is Justin.

On April 15 Jayne Dubin flew to Louisville with Ch. Phydeaux Tallulah, C.D. who was to be bred to the McNelises’ Ch. Proud Rebel de Marha. It proved to be a more eventful visit than expected since only two days before in Illinois Jan McNelis had broken her arm when the tailgate closed on it at a dog show. Her left arm no less. With dangling arm, Jan nevertheless showed their Tiffany de Marha to a win and returned to Kentucky before having the arm set. Jayne arrived just in time to help become Jan’s literal left arm.

In addition to this, Tallulah’s second expected litter, we have several others on the way in the East. Rosemary Patchell’s bitch Cheri de Berry Brow has been bred to the Tingleys’ Ch. Phydeaux Quoind er Cuivre (String), who in addition is the sire in a breeding with Pat Lukes’s Tinka Tepo de Marha. The anticipated litter will be the second out of String and Tepo. Yet another breeding has taken place, this one between the Zaccaros’ stud Ch. Sultan d’Esprit (Hico) and the Konraths’ Ch. Chateaubriard Vinaigrette, C.D. (Charlie). The Konraths have moved to Arizona, so the logistics of getting Charlie from Tucson to New York to meet Hico at just that right moment were something to admire.

Show news in the Northeast is sparse this season, but down South Susan and John Alexander had Ch. Chateaubriard Vermouth, C.D. (Homer) in 9 shows, taking BOS in 7 of them with competition in 6. Unfortunately, Susan is recovering from a fusion of her cervical vertebrae and has been unable to join John at these shows. We extend good wishes, Susan, for your rapid recovery. Homer was beaten in this stretch only once by the Vetrone’s Am. and Can. Ch. Phydeaux Quoind er (in Harrisburg under Gerhard Plastow) and once by Sentinelle des Rues, co-owned by Marlene Anderson and Julie Howard (in Reston, VA, under Helen Fisher). At the Reston show, Homer took BOS with WD going to the Vaughans’ new black puppy, Iowki de la Petite Suisse du Nord. Andrea Fochhio’s Uto del Pastre picked up one point for WD when Homer garnered yet another BOS under Henry Stocker at the Baltimore county show. In Winchester, VA, under Bob Wells, Homer took BOS while WD was awarded to Finney de Vasouy, a clear tawny male owned by Susan and Gerald Slavet of Middletown, VA. Susan was 8 months pregnant as she took Finney in for his debut. He is out of Noe de Vasouy by Eosyn 0 Bridgitte and was bred by Melinda Street. Finney is reported to be a natural at cattle herding on command or on his own, though not as talented as his companion, a black Briard bitch, called Anouc, who only recently died of peritonitis. Finney and Anouc produced two litters, both sold without papers, since Anouc had none herself. The Slavets plan to attend the rassemblement this August.

The Alexanders have a new du Lac de Bethmale puppy bitch they are calling Lotte and are awaiting the arrival of a male puppy from the same kennel this summer. His intended name is Justin.

Marie and Monroe Kokin have taken the latest addition to their family of 5 dogs and 10 cats to her first match, where she promptly took the breed over their black bitch Berry Brow’s Belle (Mimi). The arrival is Bellesprit Fille Vendredi, bred by Jayne Dubin. This black bitch is out of Ch. Phydeaux Tallulah, C.D. and Ch. Pa Chiek’s Rebel Deux and is called Friday. The match held by the Palisades K.C. was judged by James Trullinger on March 25 when Bellesprit Vanille went BOB, and then went BOS to Vanilla at North Jersey judged by Anthony Hodges. Vanilla, owned by Jayne Dubin, has 4 points as of this writing.

FLASH: Bellesprit Fille Vendredi (Friday) took Third in the Working Group at the Sand & Sea K.C. match on Sunday, April 28. This was only the second time the Kokins had entered Friday in a match or show. Nice going!

Please send photos for the DEW CLAW. We’d love to see your candids and hear your news. Mail everything to me at 6 Rebel Rd., Westport, CT 06880 by the 15th of the month preceding publication of call in your news if easier (203/226/5379).

SHOW WINS

STRATHCONA'S BLAC MAGIC WOMAN, above, owned by Linda Wells Heller took a 3 point major at Dayton K.C. on April 14. The judge is Mr. Noah Bloomer, Jr. and Magic is handled by Linda.

NEW CHAMPIONS

On April 14 at Dayton, Ohio, Can. Ch. Va-Nu-Pieds de Charlemagne finished his American Championship by going BW for 3 points under Judge Noah Bloomer. Louise Cohen handled.

On April 28, "Nicole" Vive la Nicole de Beauxjolis was WB for 2 points under Mr. Joseph Faigel to finish her championship. She is owned by Linda Wells Heller and Betty Rump, handled by Betty Rump.

The Katz's are anxiously awaiting a litter out of their Ch. Uziz Akshanit de Strathcona. The litter is sired by the McNelis' Ch. Proud Rebel de Marha.

At the Detroit K.C. on March 10, there was an entry of 2-3-5 under Mr. Glen Sommers. BOB went to Ch. Umbi Chabiv de Strathcona; BOB went to Ch. Uziz Akshanit de Strathcona. Umbi and Uziz are both owned by the Katz's, WD and BW went to Va-Nu-Pieds de Charlemagne owned by the Cohen's. WB went to Strathcona's Blac Magic Woman owned by Linda Wells Heller.

March 17th at Genesse County K.C., there was an entry of 0-2-1 under Maxwell Riddle. BOB went to Ch. Ultra Velu Chez Phydeau owned by Barbara Ruby and Nacy Lewis, WB for 1 point to Magic.

At Western Pennsylvania Kennel Association on March 30th in Pittsburgh, Pa., there was an entry of 4 male specials. BOB went to the McNelis's Ch. Pa'Chick's Rebel Deux.

Livonia K.C. on April 7th had an entry of 0-2-0 under James Trullinger. Magic again was WB for 1 point and BOB.

Toledo K.C. on April 28th had an entry of 1-3-0 under Joseph Faigel. WD, BW for 2 points and BOB went to Pa'Chick's Impresario owned and handled by Susan McCormick. WB and BOS went to Vive la Nicole de Beauxjolis for 2 points.

Susan McCormick is very excited about the way her new puppy (Pa'Chick's Impresario, better known as the "Imp") is showing. On April 21st she entered him at his first puppy match at the age of 6 months. With an entry of 3 puppies, he was BOB under Barbara Zimmerman and then went on to win the Working Group, under Larry McClure. A week latter on the 27th at the Progressive Dog Club under Nelson Radcliff with an entry of only 1 dog and 1 bitch, he took the breed over his sister. The following day at the Toledo K.C., April 28th, he acquired his first 2 points by going BOS over 3 bitches. An excellent start for a puppy only 6 months and 1 week old.

Jan Zingsheim writes that plans are set and she is expecting a good turnout for the Wayzatta and St. Paul, Minnesota shows in early June. The trophies will have a Briard theme and are the leather work which Jan has made over the winter months. Apparently she has also been working with Angel (Ch. Rochelle de Marha, CDX) in obedience since she is entered in the spring utility classes.
News and Views from the Mid-West Con't

Buckeye Briard President, Bill Heaton has appointed Louise Cohen to report Buckeye news to the Dew Claw. We are delighted to have her help and look forward to being kept up to date on their regional club's activities. Louise sends the following news.

One thing to be said for a regional club that tries to "get it all together" every couple of months is that the members sure do see the inside of a lot of different motels. President Bill Heaton is something of a locally-recognized connoisseur of the finest of the genre. Before recommending the Hospitality Inn at Columbus for the eastern Rassemblement site, Bill "field tested" it as the quarterly meeting location of the Buckeye Briard Board. The report came back that it is convenient to many diversions, has a restaurant, pool and other amenities for your added pleasure. Central Ohio should be a lovely spot to visit August 9/10/11.

Despite rumors to the contrary, both Linda Wells Heller and Louise Cohen are positive that the Easter Bunny is alive and well and plying his trade in Dayton, Ohio. They say he looks amazingly like Noah Bloomer and give purple ribbons to good little bitches and dogs. Handling her Strathcona's Blac Magic Woman to WB, Linda picked up a 3 point major, while Louise finished Va-Nu-Pieds de Charlemagne by going BW. Ch. Phydeaux Quelques, odd-man-out as the only tawny among the half dozen Briards entered, went BOB.

The preceding day, at the Licking River K.C. show, it was Magic and Va-Nu again for one point each. The super win, however, was copped by Joel Cohen who handled daughter Anne's 10 month old Whippet bitch to a Group 3.

Lee and Steve Davidson, members of the Clairmont K.C. reported that the Buckeye Briards have the use of the club's set-up show site, near Cincinnati, for their fun match, the day before Clairmont's first point show. The match date is Saturday, September 7.

In a recent phone conversation, ex-Michiganer, Don Thompson and Louise Cohen concluded that the trading of regional club newsletters would beat the high cost of Ma Bell. Louise received her first "Hairy Herald" and recommends it highly. For further information, write Patti Curnow, 6321 Holstein Way, Sacramento, CA 95831. "Hair and There with the Buckeye Briards" is edited by Dorothy Vetrone, 810 Harriet Ave. N.W., Canton, OH 44703. Louise says, "try it, you'll like it!"

I would sincerely appreciate your cooperation in getting news to me as soon as possible as I am also an obedience trainer with the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club 10 months of the year and have recently been elected president of our local dog club, the St. Clair County Kennel Club. With this and my other activities, it is very hard for me to gather up all of the information that should go into this article on my own and we do want the Mid-West Briards well represented in our club magazine.

FROM THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST.....
Northern Californians were saddened by the loss of SOIR D’HAUTE COUTURE. "Fred" was owned and loved by Larry and Eva Wegienka of Woodland and was bred by Sharon and Robert Boelter. Fred was brought out last fall for his first show at the age of 3 3/4 years. From that point on he has been unbeaten in the classes. I handled Fred to his first point in Sacramento last fall and his majors were at Beverly Hills Winter Show (5 points), and at Oakland Kennel Club (3 points). Fred was a truly unique, black Briard and our sympathies are extended to the Wegienkas.

Carole Cruz is in seventh heaven ever since the Heart Fund Match in Hayward, CA. Carole handled her lovely tawny bitch, VIVANTE MONIQUES DES BERGERS to Best of Breed, adult and I was selected to handle Monique in Working Group. Monique gave us all quite an exciting afternoon, going all the way to BEST ADULT IN MATCH!!!! Congratulations to Carole and Monique.

SUMMER CARE OF YOUR BRIARD

As summer approaches, so do many potential problems for your Briard. Following are a few of those we all should know about.

HEATSTROKE

The American Kennel Club sends out repeated warnings about heatstroke. Dogs left unattended in closed cars on sunny days all too frequently are victims of this disaster. Unfortunately, heatstroke occurs again and again at even regular AKC licensed events, where one would presume dog owners would be particularly careful about the welfare of their animals.

Summer is here. Everyone should be especially careful about confining his dogs in poorly ventilated quarters, particularly automobiles in the direct sun. Extra precautions are necessary whether you are going to a show or simply shopping at a nearby supermarket. It is better to leave your animals at home, or in a kennel than risk tragedy. The best policy is not to take a dog anywhere when he will have to be confined in a car. If you must take your dog with you, do not leave him unattended.

If you must travel an extended distance during the heat of the day, and your car is not air-conditioned, be certain the car is adequately ventilated. This is very important for dogs confined in crates in the rear of station wagons or vans. It is advisable not to confine a dog in any crate with solid sides during hot weather. There are screens available for car windows that can be very useful. They are safety barriers, preventing a dog from hanging his head out of the moving car, and they provide some ventilation when the car is stopped.

Even when the outside air temperature is in the seventies, a closed car in direct sun will become dangerously hot in a surprisingly short time. Experience indicates shows early in the summer or later in the fall, when temperatures are not excessively high, can have more heat prostration problems than shows during the mid-summer. Early or late in the year, people do not anticipate hot weather.

Heatstroke is a needless killer of too many dogs every year. With some forethought and some care, no dog need be exposed to the potential deathtrap of an unventilated car or crate.

REMEMBER, HEATSTROKE:

Can strike when temperatures are moderate; Develops suddenly; Kills quickly; Results from confinement in car or crate; Can only be prevented by you.

Dogs stricken with heatstroke must be attended to immediately by a veterinarian. Before the veterinarian arrives, cold water or ice should be used to reduce the dog's temperature.

HEARTWORM

Don't forget to take the necessary precautions against heartworm. Have your veterinarian check your dog for this parasite and ask him about the necessary steps for prevention. These will vary from area to area and according to your dog's living conditions and health.

TICKS

A menace! The common dog tick is everywhere -- geographically speaking. In recent years a different variety, previously confined to some mountainous areas of the country, have introduced tick fever to man and dog, regardless of address. This tick bite is dangerous -- sometimes fatal. Its commonest effect is leaving a dog sterile. The symptoms of this bite range from an almost imperceptible lassitude of 24 to 48 hours duration, to highly elevated temperature and a very sick dog. In the male, the testicles (one or both) become swollen, the scrotum inflamed. The only sure cure -- keep dogs tick-free (dip or aerosol spray). If symptoms appear -- to the veterinarian fast!

THOUGHTS ON THE BRIARD

BY CHARLES CHILD

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Child have owned Briards for almost fifty years! Following are some thoughts stemming from their long experience with "the Briard, one of the finest animal friends mankind has ever developed, and enjoyed."

One of our children, in a moment of euphoria, declared in ringing tones, "Briards are PEOPLE--all other dogs are DOGS!" Of course, this delightful aphorism must be taken with a grain of salt. I don't know about other breeds, but in the case of Briards at least, it can be safely said that their particular and truly remarkable qualities of response and intelligence can be brought out only by a willingness on the part of their owners to devote a great deal of time, during their first year of experience, to treating them almost as if they were human children. This may seem like an impossible counsel of perfection. But negatively they respond as sensitively to 'benign neglect' and casual treatment as to loving attention, and like children, their general capacity for awareness can make them quite neurotic if they do not get plenty of response to their legitimate needs, along with the necessary careful training and care.

On the other hand, a good deal of body contact, attention to needs, and true love can be quite compatible with the necessary discipline and training. Then their response is remarkable. The potential for a grand relationship is always there, inherent in the breed and is directly proportional to the effort given.

In this connection, I would venture to advise anyone who may be considering a Briard for the first time, that without this continued effort, which can be difficult at times--even boring when one is tired or busy--your Briard will never develop his full potential, which is one of the most unusual things about this magnificent breed. Briards, in our experience, which is after all limited to one lifetime of one family, almost always have a highly developed sense of humor and an ability to cooperate and take part in family doings. They are also perfect clowns, enthusiasts, even 'linguists'. Most have an ability to understand an enormous range of concrete commands, together with more general shades of meaning, tonal qualities in speech, body language and the like. A 400 work 'vocabulary' is not too much to expect from a mature dog. They seem able to adapt both to country living and city life. We have had Briards for years both in Paris and Washington, as well as in wilderness Maine and countryside Bucks County, Pa. Of course, it is obvious that they love the freedom of life in the country, their natural element, but they have an uncanny ability to adapt to more difficult and restricted situations.

Another distinguishing characteristic of the breed is that each dog seems to have the innate capacity to become a highly developed and singular personality. Over the many years of our experience we have found that although certain basic traits are inherent in the breed--general intelligence of a high order, the ability to collaborate in family rituals (carrying in the mail, walking with a basket of eggs, swimming with the children and be pulled by their tails like tugboats) an intuitive sensitivity to emotional climates and the like--each Briard is totally different from all others. Some love to tease, some are dignified, some are show-offs, some love cats, some enjoy parties and noisy gatherings, some are outrageous enthusiasts, and strangely, most seem to enjoy classical music, and occasionally one seems to develop the atmosphere of a reserved philosopher.

To begin with, you can never tell, though many basic traits of character will appear in the first two months. However, you may confidently expect that attention and love will bring unexpected rewards.

So, I believe that most folks who are lucky enough to associate themselves responsibly with a Briard will agree that not only will the reward be out of all proportion to the effort involved, but they will also discover that Briards are People and all other dogs are Dogs!

DOUBLE DEW CLAWS ON THE FRONT LEG

It is not unusual for a Briard to be born with double dewclaws on the front legs - some even have triple front dewclaws. Authorities on the Briard agree, this is not an undesirable trait but one that occurs in bloodlines that are genetically strong in dewclaws.

Since our breed is French, it is natural that we have an interest in the French Standard and its interpretation.
Recently, however, some serious confusion has been caused by an unfortunate misinterpretation of the French statement that double dewclaws on the front legs are a fault.

By this statement, the French do NOT mean that it is a fault for a Briard to be born with double or triple dew-claws on the front legs! Nor do they intend that the characteristic be eliminated through breeding. On the contrary, these puppies are prized.

When we were in France, we carefully questioned the French judges and breeders about this point of their standard. The answer was consistent and emphatic, "If a puppy is born with more than one dewclaw on each front leg, the French breeders have these dewclaws removed to give a cleaner line to the leg". The fault is only that they have not been removed.

It is often difficult to interpret the meaning of a standard from another country. Not only language, but many other factors must be considered. We must guard against any such misinterpretation, or it could do immeasurable damage to our breed.

COMMENT... ON ALLOWING DOGS TO RUN - OFF LEAD

BY MIMI LONG

Following is an article written by a Siberian Husky breeder for "Tail Waggings", the Twin Ports Dog Training Club's newsletter. It is very blunt and to the point, typical of the gal who wrote it. It needs to be, since if it reaches even one person with its message, then it is worth it.

I read the article when it was printed about a year ago and said to myself, "Oh yes, I agree, some people are really careless, etc., etc." and promptly forgot it. Then, just after Christmas, one of our children had Velvet and Teddy out for a beautiful moonlit walk - off lead - on a quiet rural road. When a car came roaring down the hill, just as Teddy dashed across the road, the accident was inevitable.

The car went completely over Teddy, but by some miracle, he lived through it without any internal injuries. However, his left rear leg was badly damaged and required a two hour operation to tie the stifle back together again. The veterinarian told us that broken bones would have been much better.

Here we are now, five months later and Teddy is still limping and standing on three legs. We lost a full term on his utility work and still worry that he may never recover enough to compete in Utility, let alone the breed ring. Of course, these are small things compared with the fact that we could have lost the dog himself.

The point is, that moonlit walk, off lead, just wasn't worth it!!! Here is Judie Wallgren's article.

TRAINING TALK - by Judie Wallgren

I arrived home the day of our June Beginners Graduation, to find my four children very sad and upset. It seems their best friend's dog, a lovely 24" Standard Poodle by the name of "Clyde", was dead. His lifeless body was still in a heap by the side of the road awaiting the owner's notification and claiming.

Those of us "in dogs", so to speak, know the value of confining a dog. I would no more exercise one of my dogs off lead in an unknown area than I'd wear a toilet seat around my neck at the London House! All too often I hear remarks such as, "Oh, a dog should be able to run free, like they're meant to..." or "The poor type - has to stay tied up all day", or "Can't stand to see a dog in that little 20' x 4' run--looks so caged up!" When I hear these comments, those who know me hand me a glass of water, a microphone, place a podium before me and then stand back so's not to be burned by the "hell fire and brimstone" soon to spout forth!

My lecture usually goes something like this..."All right, so you feel a dog should be able to do as he chooses all day long. Barbara Woodhouse, a well known English author on dog training, states in her recent book that a dog has the mental level of a five year old child. I suspect a dog, through training, could develop this level of thought pattern, so let's use a five year old level for reference. Would you allow a five year old child the freedom given some dogs? Would you say..."
goodbye to this five year old at 8 A.M., drive off to work, and expect to return eight hours later and find the kid still sitting where you left him?

"You say the kennel dog is missing a lot in life -- I agree. He's missing the chance to be hit by a car, the fun of being dirty, full of burrs and loaded with worms. He's missing the joy of being at the bottom of the heap of fighting, leash-law violators, the fun of being sick on garbage and infested with diseases. Oh-- rolling in dead fish is a treat he's robbed of, too! He misses the pleasure of being tormented by uneducated, misguided, mean kids. How about the thrill of shot in a farmyard? (or poisoned) and finally, he misses the great comfort of knowing where he belongs and how to behave."

The next time you hear someone remark on how they feel so sorry for a dog that has to be tied or kenneled, be sure and TELL THEM what that "poor dog" is missing!

FROM THE MOUTHS OF BABES - At an exhibition of purebred dogs in Pittsburgh, Jayne Bruner was asked, in all seriousness, by a very small girl, "Pardon me, may I bite your dog?" Her anxious parent had evidently cautioned the child to be sure to ask the lady if her dogs bit, before petting them.

WELCOME GUEST - As Janice McNelis was leaving the doctor's office with her arm in a new cast, Jayne Dubin and her Briard, Tallulah were arriving at the Louisville Airport. Jayne abandoned her status as guest and helped Phil get the household functioning - while Janice got used to the idea of using only one arm. In cases of emergencies, the McNelises certainly recommend Jayne Dubin!

MISTAKE - Recently, veterinarian James Ellingwood, DVM purchased a parrot to break the monotony of the kennel noises - only to find out a few weeks later, his parrot had learned to bark!

SYMPATHETIC UNDERSTANDING - Jayne Feller has made what must be the ultimate empathic sacrifice; had her ears "cropped". Returning home after plastic surgery, Jayne greeted her Briard, Cabri with two verses of "Walk a Mile in my Shoes".

HELPER OF MANKIND - Jan Charbonneau's new puppy continually re-arranges the rugs, shoes, chair covers and has now discovered that he can tie his possessions together with toilet paper. Jan decided to call him Sandor, a Greek name for "helper of mankind".

SANDOR AGAIN - Called to the phone while reading the Exorcist, Jan Charbonneau returned to find the book totally destroyed. Jan thinks Sandor's excuse for such behavior is the devil made him do it... to date he has not sprouted horns, so perhaps the book is not holding any ill effect on him.

GOAT'S COAT - Isn't it lovely the way the mud drops off the Briard's goat's coat... all over your house in a fine layer of dust??? Oh, well Happy Spring to you and your mudders. (courtesy of the Buckeye Briards)
